LAUNDRY LOVE
Wednesday, May 30 at 6:30 pm
Join us for our monthly Laundry Love outing—where we join with other churches to take over a laundromat to make it possible for those in need to have access to clean laundry. There is no special training or experience required. We provide quarters, soap, dryer sheets and food. If you plan to come, please contact Jay Traynor at jaytraynor@aol.com.

TAIZÉ
Wednesday, May 30: Pre-dinner at 6:30 pm, Worship at 7:30 pm
Join us for a midweek Eucharist that will focus our minds, hearts and spirits. Through the meditative worship style of Taizé we will open ourselves to the abundance of love in relationship that God desires for us – through song, prayer and silence. Join us for dinner before the Taizé service at 6:30 pm in Lower Sweetland Hall. Tickets are $10 and are available on line at www.allsaintsbh.org/calendar/pre-taize-dinner-20180530.

ETHOS IS AVAILABLE ON LINE
Our latest issue of Ethos, our quarterly journal that explores faith, culture and living intentionally, is now available on line. Entitled “God is in the City,” this issue of Ethos is a fascinating and varied look at how we find God here in our City of Angels. Visit www.allsaintsbh.org/ethos

Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!
All Thy works shall praise Thy Name,
in earth, and sky, and sea;
Holy, holy, holy; merciful and mighty!
God in three Persons, blessed Trinity!
The First Sunday after Pentecost is a celebration of the Holy Trinity. This is not, however, a celebration of a stale doctrine, but the exciting acknowledgement of the God whose self-revelation is an interaction of love between Persons. The doctrine came about as the Christian Church attempted to use human language to express our experience of God: of a magnificent and wondrous creation, of the worth and dignity of every human being, of the bounty of the natural world, and of our commission to care for it; of the reality of God’s presence in the person of Jesus of Nazareth and that we are sisters and brothers of God incarnate; and, we are people who are animated and stirred by God’s on-going presence in the happenings of our everyday world, and we are people who discover the Spirit of God informing, shaping, guiding and governing our daily manner and actions. Thus, the names given to God’s relational actions with us are Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

God is most clearly revealed in baptism — which we celebrate today. It is there that we are adopted as children, thus made brothers and sisters with each other, and filled with the Holy Spirit. As we celebrate the Eucharist, the Holy Meal of Christ, we find ourselves drawn into the community of love which we name the Holy Trinity. It is in that same love that we remember this weekend those who gave themselves for the causes of freedom and justice.

We hope you find a warm welcome and important aspects of full inclusion in our church today. We invite you to become part of our life, mission and ministries at All Saints’. We’re glad you’re here!

Bob Dannals
Interim Rector

MAKE YOUR PLEDGE FOR 2018

One consistent theme of Christian spirituality is the generosity of God. Built into the very essence of creation, when we receive God's bounty we want to share the goodness with others.

The Jordan River meanders along Israel and Palestine, connecting with the Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea. It flows both into and out of the beautiful and vibrant Sea of Galilee — inflow and outflow, receiving and giving. The Dead Sea has no outlet; it only receives and dies in its suffocation. The human spirit, just like the seas, needs both inflow and outflow, receiving and giving.

This is our heritage at All Saints'. For generations, our parishioners have experienced the bounty of a generous God. And in an answering love, those same parishioners learned the life-giving practice of grateful giving. We stand at the precipice of new chapters, with the calling of a new rector and living into a needed period of growth for our congregation.

I ask you to prayerfully consider making a pledge to our parish for 2018. We need everyone to help close the gap. Every dime you give is well-spent — to advance the strategic values and goals of this parish. The staff is frugal and careful. The Vestry exercises the utmost fiscal responsibility and oversight. Every amount is needed.

This comes with our prayers and sincere thankfulness.
